LIQUOR BILL GOES THROUGH BOTH HOUSES

It Has Been Settled by the Legislature That the Public Safety is Dependent Upon the Granting of Licenses

REFERENDUM HAS GONE TO SMASH

Democratic Majority, Violating the Most Solemn Tenets of the Party, Abrogates Part of the Constitution

Very little business was transacted by the legislature yesterday except the adoption of the rules by the house and the consideration and passage in both houses, of the so-called liquor bill, involving in its consideration the principle of the referendum. On the merits of the bill both houses were and have been almost unanimous, but as has been explained the law is of no particular value to those it seeks to relieve unless it can become immediately effective and that it could not do so unless it carried a clause making it an emergency measure, evading its subject to the referendum provision of the constitution. The brethren were all fighting about whether the relief of a few saloonkeepers could be construed as an emergency coming under the provisions of the constitution which provides for the exemption of the referendum in matters affecting the peace, safety or health of the state. From the result of yesterday's work it is deduced that the needed relief was regarded as a legitimate emergency.

On this question there was in the house a very well organized minority of nine members and in the senate there were several gentlemen leaning the same way but a fighting squad composed of the two Maricopa county senators Wood and Davis, were the only ones who went through to the end of the game and fell in the trenches not mortally wounded, but bedraggled by the conflict, personally proud but humiliated for their party's sake. At least that is the purport of their own expressions.

The bill was taken up by the committee of the whole in the senate, discussed for an hour or so and then rushed clear through to final passage so fast the clerks could hardly keep their eyes on it, and sent to the house which was bowling along at a pretty good clip in trying to get the two house bill under the wire first. It was about three laps to the lead when the senate bill was hustled in, claimed the center of the stage and was rushed to passage on greased ways and dropped down the elevator to the governor's office, only to find that that distinguished personage was in Tucson and there would be nothing doing in the signing line last night.

It is understood the friends of the bill had been counting on the governor's signature last night and they believe it will be deferred no longer until the arrival of the governor tomorrow morning. Whether the governor has expressed himself the friends of the bill seem assured that their troubles are over.

It is probably not the desire of any legislator to withhold relief from the liquor dealers of Tucson, but a technical question of the law has been commented upon. Licenses expire tonight at midnight. Will this measure on the books the license may be renewed for any saloon that has been in continuous business for the last six months. But if the governor does not sign the bill until Monday forenoon, those saloons will either have to close or do an unlicensed business for a few hours. It is asked will not a hiatus destroy the privileges vouchsafed by six months' continuous business?

THE SENATE
Senators Wood and Sims were absent when the roll was called but they slipped in presently for it was no day for any of the people's pickets to be asleep.

A committee on style, revision and compilation was appointed consisting of the president and Messrs. Hechtman and Davis.

A communication was read from the attorney-general in substance that a bill does not need to set forth at length the language of the sections of a law repealed, when a new law is enacted. The opinion was referred to the committee on judiciary.

Senate bills 56 to 62 inclusive, introduced the night before, were read and referred to the printing committee, except that in the case of 57 a duplicate copy was ordered sent to the agriculture committee for its information.

Under the head of second reading of bills and reference to committees House Bill 41 was referred to the committee on labor and Senate Bill 34 to the committee on judiciary.

Information reached the senate that the auditor was about to appear and pay off the members and attaches

TAFT ADMINISTRATION IS INDORSED IN OHIO

Taft's Own State Stands Loyal by Him By a Vote of Fifteen to Six.

[Associated Press Dispatch]
COLUMBUS, March 30.—With the control of fifteen of twenty-one members, the republican state central committee endorsed the president's administration, promised to support his candidacy, defeated a plan to give Roosevelt a complimentary resolution and voted to Choose Ohio's forty-two districts delegates to the national convention by the direct primary. Delegates at large, it was decided, will be chosen in the state convention. The only victory accorded to the Roosevelt supporters was in the adoption of the district primary plan for the election of the delegates. The call, issued by the committee, provides for holding the republican state convention at Columbus June 3 and 4 and on the day before the first day of the democratic state convention in Toledo. The second meeting of the convention will be held for the purpose of nominating an entire state ticket, after the national convention.

PRESIDENT WAS IN OPTIMISTIC MOOD

Mr. Taft Seems to Have Enjoyed Himself Thoroughly at Banquet in Philadelphia

[Associated Press Dispatch]
PHILADELPHIA, March 30.—President Taft was in an optimistic frame of mind when he faced several hundred members of the Philadelphia chamber of commerce in the Bourse here tonight. He told them he believed the people are on the eve of better times; that things are growing better. He believed there would be no great coal strike. He said he had no jurisdiction in settling strikes, and knew enough to wait and see if he were welcome rather than to go "butting in" on a matter between parties who knew their rights.

The president said he was not a reactionary, but a progressive; that he is not pessimistic, but optimistic. This speech was the first of several the president delivered here tonight. He arrived at 6 p. m. and was driven down Market street to the Bourse. There were large numbers of persons on the street.

RIVERS HAVE RISEN ABOVE DANGER POINT

Many Cities in Middle Western States Are Submerged and Water Is Still Rising.

[Associated Press Dispatch]
Serious flood conditions were reported today in portions of Mississippi, Kentucky, Nebraska, South Dakota, Indiana, Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois, today, where the rivers and other streams overflowed their banks and are flooding lowlands, driving the people from their homes and in many instances doing serious damage. At Waterloo and Norfolk, Neb., the main streets are under water and boats are used to transport the people with goods to the higher ground. The Mississippi at St. Louis lacks but one foot of the thirty-foot danger line, and is still rising. The Missouri river in South Dakota and Iowa assumed a threatening aspect, and many people are moving out. Only one death has been reported as a result of the high waters.

ONE FOR DODGERS.

FEDERALS HAVE BIG ADVANTAGE OVER ENEMIES

Madero Has Permission to Buy Arms and Ammunition in United States

NEW LIGHT ON LATE BATTLE

Mutiny of Trained Troops is Said to Have Been Real Reason for Reverses

WASHINGTON, March 30.—President Madero of Mexico has decided upon a vigorous campaign against the rebels. The United States government has consented to permit the shipment from the United States of arms and ammunition for his soldiers. These important developments in the complicated Mexican situation were learned here today. It is the intention of President Madero to replenish his diminished army with fresh recruits, throwing them around the strongholds of the rebels. The serious problem of arming them has been simplified by the decision, the United States authorizing, by special permission in each case, the Mexican government to purchase munitions of war here and ship them across the border. Under this policy three consignments of arms and ammunition have already gone into Mexico.

A joint resolution of congress, under which President Taft's recent proclamation, forbidding the exportation of munitions of war was issued, authorized the president to make exceptions at his discretion. The attitude of President Taft, as explained by officials here, is to permit the Mexican government to buy whatever it pleases in this country. This is in no violation of neutrality. It is added, as the belligerency of the revolutionists has not been recognized. Extreme precaution will be taken to prevent war supplies from falling into the hands of rebels, who are denied the privilege of receiving such materials under the president's proclamation.

EL PASO, March 30.—The recent defeat of the federal forces by rebels at Corralitos, and the chain of reverses which followed were due, it is said, to a mutiny of the twentieth battalion. A large portion of the battalion succeeded in deserting to the rebel side, which reported its "capture" in the dispatch. This battalion is composed for the most part of men who fought under General Navarro, leader of the forces of Diaz a year ago, when Madero was hewing his way to the official residence in the castle of Chapultepec. The mutiny occurred at the beginning of the battle, it is declared, the men protesting against lack of food, hard marches and because of other grievances. The remainder of the command of General Salas was compelled to fight their erstwhile comrades while a remnant of the force only was available for an attack on the rebel position. It was not defeat alone, but the fact he had failed to maintain discipline and his own prestige in the army is said to account for the suicide of General Salas.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Senator Crespo, the Mexican ambassador here today received a telegram from Foreign Minister Calero, of Mexico City, requesting him to deny all reports that the Mexican government is in danger. The ambassador declared emphatically in his opinion, the revolutionists had not succeeded. Unless Orozco turns out to be a military genius he is doomed to failure.

JIMINEZ, March 30.—General Campa, with 800 men, began his march to Parral today. The federal General Villa is supposed to be at or near Parral.

MEXICO CITY, March 30.—Suppression of the Herald yesterday by the government was subject to comment today by most of the papers. The action of the ministry of justice and the police in seizing most of the papers and destroying them, was condemned as an arbitrary action and a violation of the law and the constitutional guarantee of a free press. Diaz, the papers stated, never employed such methods, but always showed some semblance of respect for the law.

JIMINEZ, March 30.—General Campa, with 800 men, started today for Parral. It is reported that General Pancho Villa and Jose de la Cruz Sanchez, of the government forces, are there and they have but 650 men and will be unable to offer any material resistance. By Monday General Orozco expects to have started his campaign for the capture of the federal base in Torreón.

MINING SITUATION IS NOT SO SERIOUS

There is Now Evidence That the Suspension Will Last But a Short Time.

[Associated Press Dispatch]
CLEVELAND, March 30.—While 400,000 anthracite and bituminous miners are prepared to quit work tomorrow at midnight, when their present wage agreements expire, operators and union officials today took steps to make as brief as possible the stoppage of coal production. The 150,000 anthracite miners in Pennsylvania expected to quit for an indefinite period, but arrangements were completed today for reopening of negotiations to settle their wage dispute. An operators and miners conference will be held in Philadelphia April 10. A month's suspension in the anthracite mines is thought to be probable. The bituminous miners, after an eleven day's conference with the operators here, have made an agreement which will give them a slight increase in pay. As their agreement, however, must be ratified by the unions policy committee, then by a referendum vote of the union, suspension of the bituminous mines will begin pending the results of the final vote.

PHILADELPHIA, March 30.—That a suspension of mining in the anthracite coal region, will not last more than a month was the expressed belief of coal operators of the hard coal fields when they learned representatives of the miners and a committee of operators will meet in Philadelphia, April 10, to resume negotiations.

MORMON CONFERENCE MEETS IN MISSOURI

SECTION FOREMAN ON SANTA FE

Would-be Peacemaker Interferes Between Pair of Belligerents and the Usual Result Follows.

[Associated Press Dispatch]
BARSTOW, March 30.—John Steiner, a section foreman on the Santa Fe here, was shot and killed by John Blake, 65, owner of the Kramer Junction townsite, while acting as peacemaker between Blake and Santa Fe agent Young at Kramer. An old feud existed between Young and Blake for several years. The quarrel was renewed today. Steiner, who is a son-in-law of Young, seeing Blake draw a revolver from his pocket, stepped between the belligerents just as Blake fired.

TEDDY HAS A FINE TALENT FOR SCOLDING

Former President Has Become Regular Mother Quickly in Use of His Tongue

ADDRESSES CROWD AT STRAIT CITY

Discovers That There Are Some Mighty Mean Men in Michigan Legislature

[Associated Press Dispatch]
DETROIT, March 30.—The issue between Roosevelt and the present national administration was emphasized by a speech which the former president delivered here tonight. The railroad rate bill, passed the present congress and the Lorimer case furnished themes for the speech. With his visit to Detroit, which was reached after an all-day ride from the west, Roosevelt's campaign tour of the central states virtually comes to an end, as he expects to make no stops on his return trip to New York. Roosevelt said the railroad rate bill, as submitted to congress by the administration was a "thoroughly mischievous and improper measure."

Passing to the Lorimer case, Colonel Roosevelt declared the vote of the senate committee this week, recommending that the Illinois senator be allowed to retain his seat, illustrated the working, in actual practice, of the president's theory of government by the people of what he calls "representatives of a part of the people."

Roosevelt's meeting here tonight was crowded. On the trip here he made a number of speeches from the train. The crowds at the railroad stations as he passed through Michigan were the largest encountered on the present trip. In his brief train speeches he discussed the presidential primary and praised Governor DeLoach for his work for such a measure.

Roosevelt, from the rear platform of his special train here today, said the "meanest" Michigan legislators are those who framed the new primary bill in such a way it would not permit the people to express their choice for the candidates in the present campaign.

WAGES GO UP.

LOS ANGELES, March 30.—Frank Mantell, of Sacramento, was given the decision at the end of twenty rounds of mediocre fighting at Chicago today over Jack Herlick, of Chicago. [Associated Press Dispatch]
WASHINGTON, March 30.—An announcement that the government had filed an anti-trust suit against several big steamship companies transporting freight from the Atlantic coast to the far east via the Suez canal, was made today. It comes as the result of a comprehensive investigation into steamship conditions. It is alleged pools and agreements, covering other phases of American ocean trade are also to be investigated. The papers allege several big steamship companies acquired a monopoly of the transportation of freight between the United States and far eastern waters. Ten companies, including the Hamburg-American, are made parties to the suit. The papers allege unlawful agreements between the companies to control trade, one eastward bound, the other westward. It is charged pooling agreements are made periodically in London, New York, Hong Kong and Singapore.

TOO MANY THUGS SAYS SAPULPA WHITE HOPE

So, for the Time Being, Mr. Carl Morris Will Wrestle With a Switch Engine

[Associated Press Dispatch]
SAPULPA, Okla., March 30.—Because, he said, "of the brutality of the game," Carl Morris, the erstwhile "white hope," has quit the ring temporarily, at least. He went back to work today as engineer on a switch engine in the Sapulpa railroad yards. Morris deserted his engine the night of July 4th, 1910, after Jeffries had been defeated by Johnson, with the avowed intention of recovering the championship for the white race. During his twenty months' career he won eleven battles and lost two, and for the time being, he asserts, he has had enough. In time he hopes to return to the ring and defeat Johnson.

The state campaign committee has filed the sketch of LaFollette required for circulation before the Mass' primaries. The biographical sketch is notable in that it speaks of LaFollette's fight "for the nameless common people" and in that it slaps at the "unfaithful or faint hearted representatives of the progressive cause" who deserted him.

JURY REPORTS NO AGREEMENT IN SUGAR CASE

Prosecution of Former Directors Ends in a Mistrial at an Early Hour Today

ATTORNEYS HAVE NOTHING TO TELL

Government Lawyers Will Make No Statement Regarding Future Action

[Associated Press Dispatch]
NEW YORK, March 31.—The jury in the case of John E. Parsons, Washington B. Thomas, George H. Frazier and Arthur Donner, charged with violating the criminal clause of the Sherman anti-trust law, while directors of the American Sugar Refining company, reported a disagreement in the United States district court shortly before 1:30 this morning. The defendants were charged with conspiracy in restraint of trade in closing the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company's plant.

The jurors retired shortly after noon. As their hours of deliberation wore on it became evident they were having difficulty reaching a verdict. That the application of the statute of limitations was one point being considered became evident when shortly before five o'clock they returned to the court room and asked for enlightenment on the operation of the statute.

Judge Hand was asked by the foreman if it would be possible for the jury to return a verdict of acquittal if they could agree on the point that the defendants had no criminal intent when they made a loan of $1,350,000 to Adolph Segal by which the alleged "sugar trust" obtained possession of Segal's Philadelphia refinery. The court replied it would be possible for the jury to acquit if it found the defendants had done nothing criminal since July 1, 1906. Judge Hand, in his charge, said it must be shown that each defendant individually had some connection with the alleged conspiracy to close down the Segal refinery, and asked upon the statute of limitations at length.

"You must find whether, after July 1, 1906," said he, "the power to open or close a refinery rested with the defendants. You must also be satisfied that after that date, if the refinery remained closed, it was done through their will, and with criminal purpose."

When the jury reported to the court, the foreman announced it had been unable to reach a verdict, and there was no prospect of an agreement. Judge Hand at once discharged the jury.
